

Principal Corner Success and Progress

It is January, and a big decision everyday is what to wear the next day. Is it going to be hot, or cold, and does the weatherman even know the difference because half of the time they miss it. Either way, we continue on and things keep flying by in time. This school year seems to be flying by faster than most. You have heard me talk in these little notes about attendance, goals, TAKS scores, and many other different things, but today I wanted to talk to you about something really important to me, and that is building the future through our students of today. How are we preparing them for the real world? I encourage you to take a strong look and be proud of the programs that have been built here at BHS. One of the best things going I believe is the continued move towards CATE courses. CATE courses are the career and technology courses that we offer that work strictly on preparing a student for a career for the future. Here is a list of what we are currently offering:

This list seems to be growing every year and is something I would strongly encourage you to discuss with your student. Being an ex – Ag. Science teacher and coach are kind of strange to most people, but it was the two things I loved the most growing up and being in school. Those teachers and coaches inspired me to be my best and their influence continues to do so today. I just had two thank you letters brought to me today from two students who I helped work on their interview skills. Those kinds of things make you think you are making a real difference to these students and affecting them in a positive way. The challenge is huge, but the rewards are great, so I salute all of those in our community, our school district, and our high school that have dedicated their lives to the challenge of preparing our youth for the future.
